Occupational Therapy Faculty Job Posting (4 positions)

The School of Rehabilitation Science currently offers a Master of Physical Therapy program and is expanding to include Master of Occupational Therapy and Master of Speech-Language Pathology programs. This expansion is part of the Government of Saskatchewan's Health Human Resources Action Plan, focused on creating opportunities for students to train for careers in these professions in Saskatchewan.

The programs will be housed jointly within the School of Rehabilitation Science with intentional opportunities for inter-professional education. Our School aims to foster collaboration and innovation among students and faculty from diverse disciplines, enhancing the educational experience and preparing future leaders in the rehabilitation sciences.

Applications are invited from qualified individuals for four (4) full-time tenure track faculty positions at Assistant, Associate or Full Professor rank with the School of Rehabilitation Science, College of Medicine at the University of Saskatchewan.

This is a unique and exciting opportunity to have a significant impact in developing curriculum and teaching within the inaugural Master of Occupational Therapy Program, launching in fall 2026. The successful applicant will also supervise MSc and PhD graduate students, initiate, lead, and participate in research activities, compete successfully for external funding to support their research program, and undertake relevant administrative activities including meetings and committee work. A range of research supports, including start up finding and protected time for development of a research program will be provided.

The School's mission is excellence in rehabilitation science teaching, research, scholarship, and leadership to improve the quality of life and well-being for all people of Saskatchewan and beyond. Faculty within our School have active research programs across a broad range of initiatives, collaborating with several local, provincial, and national research groups. The successful candidate will join our team and assist in advancing our strategic plan focused on establishing a hub for rehabilitation science education, research, and community engagement, strengthening Indigenous initiatives, progressing our graduate programming, and enhancing inter-professional collaborative practice and research.

The University of Saskatchewan's main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community, and a wide variety of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research, and scholarly activities and offers a full spectrum of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 26,000.

Qualifications

The successful candidate must have successfully completed an entry to practice occupational therapy program, hold or be nearing completion of a PhD or equivalent Doctoral degree, and have at least two years of clinical practice experience. Post-doctoral research experience is an asset. Candidates must be eligible for licensure with the Saskatchewan College of Occupational Therapists and eligible for membership with the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in occupational therapy, a passion for education and a commitment to advancing the profession. We are seeking candidates with an interest in engaging in scholarly activities across a broad spectrum of practice areas.

The current salary band for an Assistant Professor position is $107,323 to $128,131, Associate Professor position is $128,131 to $148,939 and Full Professor is $148,939 to $173,215. This position includes a comprehensive benefits package which includes a dental, health and extended vision care plan; pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), academic long-term disability, sick leave, travel insurance, death benefits, an employee assistance program, a professional expense allowance, and a flexible health and wellness spending program.

Interested candidates must submit, via email:

- a cover letter
- a detailed curriculum vitae
- a five-year research plan (maximum three pages)
- a teaching portfolio (including a teaching philosophy)
- a statement of commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility (one to two pages)
